Haleon Contact Center: 1-800-88-ADVIL

Haleon, the makers of Advil® products, is issuing this public notification to alert consumers of a defect of certain peel-back labels that may render some critical safety information unreadable.

Always read the label before you take Advil or any other nonprescription medicine. If any portion of the label is torn, smudged or otherwise unreadable, please find a complete version with all current information at www.advil.com, or call the Haleon Contact Center at 1.800.88.ADVIL (1.800.881.3845).

A list of impacted lots of Advil products is provided below. A voluntary wholesale level recall of these lots was initiated on December 6th, 2022. This notification is to inform consumers if any assistance needed if they come across defective labels. Please note that this issue only impacts the labels. There is nothing wrong with the products themselves, which are safe to take when used as directed.:
